

The conference

Professional equality to valorize your firms - what good practices exist in France and in Europe?

PRESENTATION

This conference has a European human, social, economic and ethical dimension.

This conference will be a place to exchange and share experiences on the consideration given to human capital in the improvement of professional equality.

In support of this conference, AFECA will have a number of concrete and practical tools to offer - a range of good practices that will highlight the way women respond to their main preoccupations and consolidate the results of work carried out collaboratively by the AFECA over the last few months in all regions. The results of a European benchmark that we carried out with member institutes of the FEE and EFAA will also be presented and will show how the issue of valorising human capital is taken into consideration in the profession's European institutes.

INTERESTS & OBJECTIVES

One of the objectives of the conference is to make the profession more attractive by requiring the profession to ensure better integration of professional and private life or even the federation around AFECA of a network of professional European institutions in order to pool our experiences and our values.

POINTS DISCUSSED

- Legislative context
- CSOEC/AFECA Convention and the signing of the Charter
- AFECA regional network
- Visibility of AFECA in the panel of 400 professional female associations identified
- The collaborative platform of good practices by the valorization of human capital
- Taking into consideration parity in professional European institutes

SPEAKERS

Panagiotis Alamanos
Member of the International Affairs Committee of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Greece (SOEL)

Marie-Ange Andrieux
Co-president of the French CPA women on board association (AFECA)

Helen Brand
Chief Executive of the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA)

Hysen Cela
President of the Albanian Institute of Statutory Auditors (IEKA)

Marie-Dominique Cavalli
Co-president of the French CPA women on board association (AFECA)

Andrea Rabb
Vice-president of the Hungarian Association of Certified Tax Experts (MOKLASZ)

Michael Schick
Head of Brussels Office, German Federal Chamber of Tax Advisers (BStBK)